ABOUT KanazawaBunko Art Festival

The future of the earth is the future of the children.

"We want to pass something on to next generation with ART" - holding on to this dream, starting from 1999 until this year's edition, we've organized thirteen Art Festivals. "The future of the earth is the future of the children." - while keeping this slogan in mind, we're trying to figure out what should we do to leave behind a beautiful Earth for our kids and have great fun at the same time.

Art Festival goals

- to create a meeting place for neighbourhood residents and deepen their spiritual bonds
- to preserve Japanese traditional culture and pass it on to next generation
- to activate area's culture through art and let the participants experience self-realization
- to connect the world AND connect generations as well to think about environment and express our thanks to nature
